

"Another Day"

Music By : Factory Seconds Band

Lyrics By : David Robert Moore

Took his life today
Was he right - was he wrong
People heard and were offended
Were they right - were they wrong
Well I don't care what the people may say
It's not our place to judge a man's way - No,No,No
In times like this we need to take a hard look
At the games that we all play
And learn to live through another day - Yeah, Yeah

Took a life today
Was she right - was she wrong
The people heard and they protested
Were they right - were they wrong
The problems not what people do in the dark
It's more the condition of their heart - Yeah,Yeah
The battleground is deep inside of their souls
What are the things that make us feel whole
So we can live through another day

What happened to
The simple ways of people caring ?
When love is second on our minds
How will we - li ----- ve !?! Oh - oh !

They took His life today
Was it right - was it wrong
The people spoke His life was ended
Were they right - were they wrong
It mattered not He was an innocent man
Their fear had forced them
Now to take a stand
He never spoke - the execution began
It's all a part of the master plan
So we can live through another day - Yeah, Yeah
One more day - Hey !
