

" Stuck in the Middle "

Music By : Factory Seconds Band

Lyrics By : David Robert Moore

Stuck in the middle
And I don't know where I am
Between a rock - and a hard place
Will I ever believe in life again ?

Well I'm stuck in the middle
And I don't know where I am
Between a rock - and a hard place
Will I ever believe in life again ?
Will I ever believe in life again ?

Well I'm trapped in the storm of life
And I don't know who I am
Am I what I thought I'd always be ?
Will I ever step out in faith again ?
Will I ever step out in faith again ?

Time takes a toll sometimes
I can't break out of the mold
I'm steppin' in
I hold on to the lie that someday
I will give it a try
And I will live the life I once had

Well I'm caught in the crosshairs
And I got my back up
Against the door
Content to take the road to nowhere fast
Will I travel to the place of discontent ?
Will I travel to the place of discontent ?

Pullin out of the mire
Oh can I only catch the fire
Of past belief
Time to put off the past
If only this time it would last
Then I could be
The man I hoped to be
